Individual Winners

Lu Yang MS (2017/2018)

12000 FRANCS 🍷🍷

43 Elgin Street Soho, Central, Hong Kong (and SAR)
852 25293100
<https://12000francs.com.hk/>
Cuisine: Modern European
Wine list by Chris Woodyard
Wine on list: 87 (46 by the glass)
Wine prices: $$
By the glass: 50 - 205 HKD

Winner Best Medium List

There are a lot of deliciousness to be found within this concise but well chosen selection of wines. This is not your run of the mill bistro wine list. A combination of some classics but with a number for exciting up and coming producers, particularly from Australia. Well priced, there is a lot to be found at reasonable prices across both the old and new world, along with some rare and aged treasures for the more serious drinkers. With plenty by the glass, this is a venue you will be able to return to time and time again, without ever drinking the same thing twice.

121BC 🍷🍷🍷

Shop E & F, G/F, 42-44 Peel Street, Central, Hong Kong (and SAR)
23950200
<http://www.121bc.com.hk/>
Cuisine: Italian
Wine list by Vincent Kwong
Wine on list: 77 (14 by the glass)
Wine prices: $$$
By the glass: 75 - 160 HKD

A clever wine list that showcases the breadth of personality of Italian wine, from fine-boned alpine reds and whites through to warmer, generous expressions from the south. It's a list that anchors itself in natural wine producers and those who are working organically, so the more classic producers are absent but the exploration of Italy's avant garde wines is thrilling. Highlights come from obscurities like nebbiolo from Valtellina or orange wine produced by superstar Friuli vigneron Dario Princic, but there's some more familiar ground in a stellar vertical of Giuseppe Cappellano Barolos or Donnafugata's SurSur refreshing grillo. The venue offers a multitude of snacks taking cues from various western European cuisines, so working through the well-chosen by the glass offering is as tempting as settling in for a bottle of something special. Don't miss the neat collection of rare amaros too. A brilliant little wine bar here.

1515 WEST CHOPHOUSE & BAR, JING AN

SHANGRI-LA HOTEL 🍷🍷

1515牛排馆&酒吧

1218 Middle Yan'an Road, West Shanghai, Shanghai 200000
22038888
<http://www.shangri-la.com/shanghai/jinganshangrila/dining/restaurants/the-1515-west-chophouse-and-bar/>
Cuisine: American Bar and Grill
Wine list by Jasper Sun / Lewin Kong / Yulia Zhu
Wine on list: 423 (14 by the glass)
Wine prices: $$$
By the glass: 70 - 190 RMB

This year sees a new-look wine list from sommelier, Jasper Sun, and more than a hundred new wines make an appearance. The result is a strong, well-rounded, world wine listing, where drinkers seeking organic and bio-dynamic wines can search by style. Alternatively, there are Jasper Sun's own recommendations to consider. Here, the drinker is offered everything from top shelf Bordeaux and Burgundy through to small makers rarely seen outside their own countries. Focus on individual makers such as Bollinger, Penfolds Grange and DRC show the depth of cellaring at the restaurant. The Chinese wine listing is worth a second and even third look.

28 HUBIN ROAD, HYATT REGENCY

HANGZHOU 🍷🍷🍷

湖滨28中餐厅

28 Hubin Road, Hangzhou, Zhejiang 310006
8657187791234
<https://hangzhou.regency.hyatt.com/en/hotel/dining/28HuBinRoad.html>
Cuisine: Hangzhou
Wine list by Olive Gao / Johnny Sit
Wine on list: 255 (17 by the glass)
Wine prices: $$$
By the glass: 65 - 220 RMB

What wine goes with poached pigeon eggs or imperial-style fish head? The exotic flavours of Hangzhou cuisine find their match with this 255-wine strong list of some of the world's leading wines. The sommelier has incorporated many wine styles from the bright and crisp to the rich and textural, with plenty of scope for wine and food matching. The menu offers good matches, including shaoxing rice wine. The French and Italians shine here.

8½ OTTO E MEZZO BOMBANA HONG

KONG 🍷🍷🍷

Shop 202, Landmark Alexandra, 18 Chater Road, Central,
Hong Kong (and SAR)

852 2537 8859

Wine prices: $$$

By the glass: 80 - 500 HKD

Winner Wine List of the Year

- Hong Kong, Macau, Taiwan

Winner Best Wine List Hong Kong SRA

Winner Best Listing of One Country's Wine

A superb array of fine Italians, including verticals of many of the great names, highlight this comprehensive and impressive list. There is much more, of course, especially champagne, including an exciting collection from Krug. Old vintages are no issue – Masseto back into the 80's – and some terrific value.

8½ OTTO E MEZZO BOMBANA MACAU,

GALAXY MACAU 🍷🍷🍷

1st Floor, The Promenade, Shop 1031, Estrada Da Baía De NossaSenhora Da Esperança, Cotai, Macau (and SAR)

853 8886 2169

<https://www.galaxymacau.com/en/macau-restaurant/restaurant-directory/recommended/otto-e-mezzo-bombana>

Cuisine: Italian

Wine list by Han Yew Kong

Wine on list: 592 (19 by the glass)

Wine prices: $$$

By the glass: 80 - 480 MOP

A stellar selection of some of Italy's most treasured wines. A large selection of hard to find producers from both Piedmont and Tuscany with a wonderful depth of vintages. There is also plenty of Bordeaux and Champagne for you to sink your teeth into if that's more your style. Loving the range of wines now also being served by the glass, thanks to Coravin, perfect for those interested to try something new at the more premium end of the spectrum. A great list for those interested in everything Italian from the more obscure and lesser known regions and varietals to the reigning kings and queens - there is no where better to splash out on a once in a lifetime bottle of Barolo that here.

8½ OTTO E MEZZO BOMBANA SHANGHAI

🍷🍷🍷

6th-7th floor, Associate Mission Building, No.169

Yuanmingyuan Road, Huangpu District, Shanghai 200002

021-60872890

Cuisine: Italian

Wine list by Gian Luca Fusetto

Wine on list: 750 (15 by the glass)

Wine prices: $$$

By the glass: 80 - 360 RMB

A fine collection focused very much of the best of Italy. It also offers an appealing mix of recent vintages with some impressive older choices. There is value to be found and while there are numerous other options, Bordeaux has also has a special place.

AIR FRANCE - BUSINESS CLASS, N/A 🍷🍷

法国航空公司商务舱

Room 1601, Building 3, China Oversea Plaza, No 8, Guanghua Dongli, Chaoyang District, Beijing 100020

010-59220809

<https://www.airfrance.com.cn/>

Cuisine: Business Class

Wine list by Paolo Basso

Wine on list: 1 (1 by the glass)

Wine prices: $$$

By the glass: 0 - 0 RMB

Air France looks after its Business Class clientele by offering carefully chosen, quality wines. The selection changes with the season and is complementary to the cuisine. Enjoy fine Champagne, Burgundy from respected producers and Bordeaux with age. The astute wine selection is one of the real highlights of flying with Air France.

AIR FRANCE - LA PREMIERE

法国航空公司

Room 1601, Building 3, China Overseas Plaza, No. 8,
Guanghua Dongli, Chaoyang District, Beijing 100020
010-59220809

<https://www.airfrance.com.cn/>

Cuisine: La Premiere

Wine list by Paolo Basso

Wine on list: 6 (6 by the glass)

Wine prices: $$$

By the glass: 0 - 0 RMB

Winner Best Airline List

A stunning wine list of the highest quality enticing high-flying wine lovers to choose Air France as their premier airline. Let a glass of Krug fade worries from the ground before selecting from a compact set of exceptional wines. Vintage and producer are carefully considered, and the informative descriptions will have you an expert before landing.

AKME

No.55 Wulumuqi South Road, Xuhui District, Shanghai
200031

021-64699969

<http://www.wineliststoftheyear.cn>

Cuisine: French Creative Dining

Wine list by Louis Lu / Stan Fang

Wine on list: 411 (13 by the glass)

Wine prices: $$$

By the glass: 80 - 360 RMB

Akme opened last year offering "French Creative Dining" and a wine list that embraces the best of France. Francophiles will love the near exhaustive array of white and red Burgundies and Bordeaux wines. However, they don't have exclusivity. Germany, Austria, Spain and Italy also have a strong supporting role. The emphasis, grape-wise, is on chardonnay, cabernet sauvignon and pinot noir. Multiple vintages from top producers are a feature.

ANGELINI, KOWLOON SHANGRI-LA

64 Mody Road, Kowloon, Hong Kong (and SAR)

85227212111

<http://www.shangri-la.com/hongkong/kowloonshangrila/>

Cuisine: Italian

Wine list by Raducki Stephen

Wine on list: 280 (23 by the glass)

Wine prices: $$$

By the glass: 85 - 900 HKD

Starting with the Sommelier's Private Cellar selection, really sets the tone for the intention of this wine list. The best of Italy with a serious appreciation for the rewards that patience brings in the wine world. This list is a delight to read through, with each page playing host to some of Italy's (and France) most sought after wines. The depth of vintages across the regions of Piedmont, Veneto and Tuscany does not go unappreciated, these wines are hard to find, and it seems as though the cellar at the Shangri-La Kowloon is a treasure trove of these rarities. So often are, the great wines of the world drunk before their time, you will be in no harm of this at Angelini, with so much listed, in the perfect drinking window. For those just hoping for a taste of these delights, there is a coravin program, so you may be in luck and find them also being served by the glass.

ARIA, CHINA WORLD HOTEL

No.1 Jianguomenwai Avenue, Beijing, 100004

65052266-38

<http://www.shangri-la.com>

Cuisine: Western Style

Wine list by Gary Zhang

Wine on list: 452 (22 by the glass)

Wine prices: $$$

By the glass: 90 - 300 RMB

A high calibre list, beautifully presented, with care given to vintage selection. A balanced, classy selection by the glass. Helpful maps set the scene for the different regions. There is an impressive selection of Burgundy and Bordeaux as well as a strong New World listing. Serious wine lovers will be in their element.

ARIA BAR, CHINA WORLD HOTEL

No.1 Jianguomenwai Avenue, Beijing, 100004
65052266-5743
<http://www.shangri-la.com>
Cuisine: Tapas
Wine list by Gary Zhang
Wine on list: 18 (18 by the glass)
Wine prices: $$
By the glass: 90 - 230 RMB

Settle in for an evening a tapas and cocktails at the sophisticated Aria Bar. Enjoy vibrant signature drinks or perhaps a nip of aged Cognac or Grappa. However, it will be hard to resist the single malt collection with over forty on offer. The wine offering is succinct but well-chosen with strength across the range. Enjoy a glass of Champagne, white Burgundy, or an aromatic New Zealand pinot noir. Care has been taken with vintage selection, which is always good to see.

AUX BEAUX ARTS, MGM MACAU

寶雅座

Avenida Dr. Sun Yat Sen, Nape, Macau (and SAR) 407013
853
<https://www.mgm.mo/>
Cuisine: French
Wine list by David Chang
Wine on list: 2150 (14 by the glass)
Wine prices: $$$
By the glass: 60 - 500 MOP

Winner Best Listing of French Wines
Winner Best Listing of Portuguese Wines

A very prestigious and comprehensive wine list. The menu is French and the French theme is continues strongly in the wine list which has a phenomenal range of French producers, wines and regions, recognised as the world's best. In many cases too, extensive ranges of vintages are provided. The rest of the world is also thoroughly represented by very high quality producers and wines in this complete wine list ensuring all diners will find the perfect wine to complement the occasion.

AZUR, SHANGRI-LA HOTEL, BEIJING

29 Zizhuyuan Road, Beijing, 100000
(86 10) 8882 6727
<http://www.shangri-la.com/beijing/shangrila/dining/>
Cuisine: French
Wine list by Jack Zhang
Wine on list: 216 (17 by the glass)
Wine prices: $$$
By the glass: 70 - 155 RMB

A tailored list of high-quality producers from around the globe. A refreshing mix of icons and lesser-known labels. France is particularly strong, including a very strong Burgundy collection. Attention has been paid to vintages which is excellent to see. This is a premier list, full of top wines so you can choose with confidence.

BAIYULAN, OKURA GARDEN HOTEL

SHANGHAI

白玉兰中餐厅

58 Maoming Road (S.), Shanghai, 200030
86-21-64151111
<http://www.gardenhotelshanghai.com>
Cuisine: Chinese
Wine list by Yinhua Liao
Wine on list: 145 (8 by the glass)
Wine prices: $$
By the glass: 90 - 120 RMB

Overall, Baiyulan presents an impressive beverage selection. A lovely range of Chinese tea and an excellent selection of spirits, particularly Chinese liquor and rice wine. An incredibly extensive collection of Japanese sake and shochu. French wines are a strength, and there is also a good offering of Italian and Spanish reds. Keep an eye on vintage when ordering.

BAROLO, THE RITZ CARLTON BEIJING

83a Jianguo Road, Chaoyang District, Beijing 100025

86 010 59088151

<http://www.ritzcarlton.com>

Cuisine: Italian

Wine list by Billy Tao

Wine on list: 232 (22 by the glass)

Wine prices: $$$

By the glass: 80 - 300 RMB

As expected for a restaurant of this calibre, this is a comprehensive international wine list with appropriate breadth and depth. Its real strength lies in its collection of red wines, with Italy, as expected, well-represented. However, it is also great to see an extensive listing of Australian and American red wines. The French collection is sublime.

BEBA RESTAURANT AND BAR, HYATT

88 Donghai East Road, Qingdao, Shandong 266061

86 532 8612 1234

<http://www.lshyatthotel.com/>

Cuisine: Southeast Asia

Wine list by Allan Li

Wine on list: 80 (12 by the glass)

Wine prices: $$

By the glass: 55 - 110 RMB

Although this bar has a highly impressive beer list, it's the wine that has taken pride of place in the menu. The offering has steadily improved over the years, with the wines on offer tailored to the South-East Asian cuisine. Care has been taken to list quality producers from around the globe, and there's a wide range of prices and styles to cater for everyone's budget and palate. A small, well-balanced wine list with much to offer.

BEIJING HONG KONG JOCKEY CLUB

京华阁

No. 68 Jinbao Street, Dongcheng District, Beijing 100005

86 10 5911 8888

<http://www.beijingclubhouse.com/gb/index.html?v=lite>

Cuisine: Chinese & Western

Wine list by Wang Xi Quan

Wine on list: 300 (100 by the glass)

Wine prices: $$$

By the glass: 100 - 1000 RMB

Winner Best Listing of Chinese Rice Wines

A high-class, exclusive, international list with a prestigious and extensive collection of top-end Bordeaux. Blue-ribbon names are in abundance, including a collection of Domaine de la Romanée Conti. A sophisticated set of aged spirits with many Chinese liqueurs. Always keep one eye on the vintages when ordering.

BELLE VUE, GRAND HYATT

悦景扒房

1881 Baoan Nan Road luohu District, Shenzhen, Guangdong

518000

75522187338

<https://shenzhen.grand.hyatt.com/en/hotel/home.html>

Cuisine: Steak and Seafood

Wine list by Grant Wu

Wine on list: 200 (13 by the glass)

Wine prices: $$$

By the glass: 98 - 158 RMB

A solid list brimming with premium, dependable labels. All bases are covered, whether you are after a top Italian or Australia red, or a first growth Bordeaux. Names like Egon Muller, Ata Rangi and Antinori grace the pages and there are plenty of icon wines on offer such as Opus One and Chateau Latour. Good to see a solid selection of local Chinese wine too.

BENE, SHERATON GRAND MACAO HOTEL,

COTAI CENTRAL

班妮

Estrada do Istmo. s/n, Cotai, Macao, Macau (and SAR)
853 811 31200

<http://www.benemacao.com/>

Cuisine: Italian

Wine list by Ben Bost

Wine on list: 166 (13 by the glass)

Wine prices: $$

By the glass: 75 - 120 MOP

Bene combines both quality and diversity in their concise and interesting wine list. There is something to suit everyone's tastes and budget and although Italian wines are a focus, in keeping with the Italian cuisine, there is a good range of other delightful wines from around the globe. The wine by the glass or carafe list provides a small but very nice selection of international wines and if you are there on a Wednesday or Thursday, enjoy one of the mid-week, well priced, wine specials.

BISCOTTI ITALIAN RESTAURANT , SOFITEL

JINAN SLIVER PLAZA

比萨高意大利餐厅

No.66 Luoyuan Avenue Lixia District, Jinan, Shandong 250063
86 531 8606 8888

<http://www.sofitel.com/gb/hotel-2875-sofitel-jinan-silver-plaza/index.shtml>

Cuisine: Italiana Cuisine

Wine list by Andy Liu

Wine on list: 154 (31 by the glass)

Wine prices: $$

By the glass: 60 - 299 RMB

Extensive offering of Old World wines with plenty of options from the New. There is a good 'by the glass' selection with some big names – Dr Loosen, Craggy Range, Jaboulet and others. And also a selection of organic wines. Plenty here for all.

BRASSERIE, THE PARISIAN MACAO

巴黎人法式餐厅

Level 3, Estrada do Istmo, Lote 3, Cotai, Macau (and SAR)
85381119200

<https://www.parisianmacao.com/macau-restaurants/brasserie.html>

Cuisine: French

Wine list by Arnaud Echalié

Wine on list: 412 (19 by the glass)

Wine prices: $$

By the glass: 65 - 138 MOP

French flair abounds here from the menu that includes specialties such as Fondue à la Raclette through to the very thorough, French focused wine list. The excellence and diversity of French wines is showcased, including plenty of choice of appellation and vintage for the Bordeaux fans. But it doesn't stop there. The list has been very carefully crafted and includes a wonderful spread of wines, styles and price points from around the globe. Enjoy.

BRITISH AIRWAYS

英国航空公司

China, Shanghai, 200001
4008810207

<http://www.ba.com>

Cuisine: N/A

Wine list by British Airways Catering Team

Wine on list: 12 (12 by the glass)

Wine prices: $$$

By the glass: 0 - 0 RMB

Choose from a fine Champagne or a quality English fizz to ease your transition from land to air. The international table wine offering is comprehensive and astute, with Euro classics and new world gems. The aged Pauillac is a real treat, though don't pass up a glass of Warre's aged Colheita Tawny to finish off your meal with style.

CAFÉ GRAY DELUXE, THE MIDDLE HOUSE

366 Shi Men Yi Road, Jing'an District, Shanghai 200041

021-32168088

<http://www.themiddlehousehotel.com>

Cuisine: Modern French

Wine list by Feifei Liu

Wine on list: 248 (14 by the glass)

Wine prices: $$$

By the glass: 70 - 175 RMB

Winner Best Wine Bar List

A new name in Shanghai and definitely one to watch, Cafe Deluxe, shows a deft hand with its wine list, delivering some serious imbibing alongside wines more playful and, at times, controversial. The emphasis, in keeping with its modern French food mantra, rests on France but the diner is far from restricted, with Old World as well as New World wines showcased. Start with a glass of aged Chablis served under Coravin or a small flight of wines for comparison and take it from there.

CALYPSO, JING AN SHANGRI-LA HOTEL

地中海餐厅

West Shanghai, 1218 Middle Yan'an Road, West Shanghai, Shanghai 200000

22038889

http://www.shangri-

la.com/shanghai/jinganshangrila/dining/restaurants/calypso/

Cuisine: Casual Mediterranean

Wine list by Jasper Sun / Yulia Zhu

Wine on list: 180 (20 by the glass)

Wine prices: $$

By the glass: 70 - 150 RMB

Care has been taken to offer a diverse selection of high-quality wines from around the world. Many renowned producers are listed, such as Two Paddocks and Stefano Lubiana from the new world, and Vietti and Domaine Ramonet from the old. Care has been taken with vintages, and there's a great range of prices and styles. There is also a top selection of tea, cocktails and aged spirits which adds to the appeal.

CAMPUS, HYATT REGENCY CHONGMING

凯悦校园

Lane 799, Lan Hai Road, Chenjia Town, Chongming, Shanghai 202162

86 21 6703 1234

<https://chongming.regency.hyatt.com/en/hotel/dining.html>

Cuisine: Snacks

Wine list by N/A

Wine on list: 52 (10 by the glass)

Wine prices: $$

By the glass: 50 - 80 RMB

The food menu at Campus contains just nine snacks, including duck neck, chicken feet and fries. It's modest in number, no so the 52-strong wine list that accompanies it. There are some surprises in store, like the Cellar Collection with Henschke 2005 Hill of Grace shiraz, 2008 Opus One and Antinori's 2008 Solaia. It's also possible to order some tasty wines by the glass from around the world such as Dr Loosen riesling, Les Jamelles and Chateau Lagrange.

CANTON, THE VENETIAN MACAO

喜粤

Cotai Strip, Estrada da Baia de N. Senhora da Esperanca s/n, Taipa, Macau (and SAR) 853

853 81189930

<https://www.venetianmacao.com>

Cuisine: Cantonese

Wine list by Christian Calipusan / Jimmy Valentine

Wine on list: 645 (11 by the glass)

Wine prices: $$$

By the glass: 48 - 133 MOP

This is a solid wine list with a broad selection of wines from the old world and USA. If you are a lover of the classic regions of Barolo, Bordeaux and the cult wineries of the Napa Valley then you will find a happy place amidst it's pages. There is a strong selection of older vintages from these areas, along with a few gems hidden amongst them such as a 2006 Domain Sigalas Assyrtiko from Santorini for something a little more quirky. Lovers of the new world may be left wanting a little more, but perhaps given you are in Macau, it might be a good opportunity to try some of the wines of Portugal, there is a good selection to be found here.

CAPRICE, FOUR SEASONS HOTEL HONG

KONG

P6, 8 Finance Street, Central, Hong Kong (and SAR)
85231968860

<https://www.fourseasons.com/hongkong/dining/restaurants/caprice/>

Cuisine: French

Wine list by Victor Petiot

Wine on list: 1300 (20 by the glass)

Wine prices: $$$

By the glass: 150 - 410 HKD

The Caprice wine list is a beautifully composed journey through the regions of France. All of the best wines from the best producers can be found, along with some lesser known producers and appellations. This however is not a list where every wine is simply listed for the sake of it, each wine has been carefully selected and therefore whilst still being extensive, is not difficult to navigate. If France is not your thing, fear not, each major wine producing country is well represented. A list to rival the top restaurants of Paris, with something for everyone.

CAPRICE BAR, FOUR SEASONS HOTEL

HONG KONG

P6, 8 Finance Street, Central, Hong Kong (and SAR)
85231968860

https://www.fourseasons.com/hongkong/dining/lounges/caprice\_bar/

Cuisine: French

Wine list by Victor Petiot

Wine on list: 60 (25 by the glass)

Wine prices: $$$

By the glass: 140 - 260 HKD

French wine and food are the focus here at Caprice Bar. The wine list has been well chosen with great examples that showcase the diversity of French wine and this same comment can be made about the wine by the glass list where 25 wines provide very good choice. In addition to wine, there is a wonderful selection of other beverages, notably Cognac, Armagnac and Whisky.

Now in its eighth year, Char Bar & Grill, continues to present an easily navigable world wine listing led by France and Australia. It's a good list, but it must be said its real strength lies in a selection of red wines entirely suited to the restaurant's reputation as a steakhouse. Such choice, from the rustic and earthy Spanish tempranillo and South African shiraz through to Sonoma cabernet sauvignon and classic Barolo. Wines by the glass include a Chinese cabernet worth exploring.

We have to say for a small wine list, Coffee Garden Harbin, nails it. The pressure from having to select just 32 wines from both the Old World and the New, doesn't appear to concern the sommelier at all. Allen Zhang forges ahead, borrowing classic and alternative grape varieties from their most distinctive sources, whether it's a riesling from the Mosel, a gewurztraminer from Alsace or a valpolicella from the Veneto. The odd cabernet from South Africa and malbec from Argentina adds extra spice to this terrific list.

Balance is the signature of this list - with neither too much or too little of anything. Considerable effort has been made to spread this selection evenly across all major wine producing countries. There is some emphasis on the wines of Bordeaux, the USA and with relatively more wines from Portugal than you would usually find, of a list of this size, but all very suitable choices for a steakhouse found in Macau. Additionally it is also refreshing to see a nice balance of price points across the selection with some very affordable wines to be found and interesting wines by the glass.

Coquille Seafood Bistro is to be congratulated on a wine list perfectly in tune with the cuisine offered, in this case, seafood in the French-style. White wines concentrate on lighter, spicier and the more aromatic such as riesling and gewurztraminer. Red wines follow suit with medium-bodied and fragrant examples from the Loire, Beaujolais and Burgundy as well as beyond. The sommelier's mix of large and small Champagne houses and choice of roses -such good all-rounders with any seafood - are master strokes. Prices are fair, value is excellent.

*A mind-blowing wine list that holds nearly 17,000 different labels with a near complete holding of every great wine known on earth. The number of cuvees alone should impress, but that the sommelier team has managed to select best vintages, source huge vertical runs of marquee wines, traverse a breadth of wine styles and wine-growing countries, and still find wine that is affordable is quite remarkable. There is so much to note, but particularly distinguished are releases from Chateau Haut-Brion, the incredible collection of Dom Perignon Plenitude wines, or the outstanding collection of German riesling. In the end, this is an encyclopaedic list that will blow away wine buffs but offer comfort to those beginning their exploration of the world of wine. The strength of this wine list is with the dedicated focus on Grace Vineyard's Chinese wine offering, but this is enhanced by a very good collection of top end European wines. Egon Müller Scharzhofberger, Chateau Lafite Rothschild and Vega Sicilia are examples of the very serious, high reputation wines that are found amongst staples of the international wine world. The cuisine is French, so French wine is the strongest asset in this wine list, with good representation from notable regions of Rhone Valley, Alsace, but most importantly, Bordeaux. Indeed, Bordeaux really is the most prevalent region showcased, with a good spread of 'Growths' and producers. Don't miss some of one of Australia's great cult wine producers, Bass Phillip, also found in this relatively well-rounded list.

A collection of the classics with a strong emphasis on both Burgundy and Bordeaux. A catalogue of vintages of the top producers abounds, but perhaps to the detriment of some of the smaller, yet exciting wineries. This perhaps gives the list a sense of being weighted towards the heavy hitting high price tag wines, so if you have cash to splash, this the list for you. Perhaps a broader wine by the glass selection would help to balance out this impression.

A short and sweet wine list that focuses on smaller, grower-producers with a leaning towards the sect of natural wine. It's a wine list that is decidedly set to expressive wines from more obscure but noteworthy winemakers and regions, with quality in mind. It's great to see wines from cult producer Vina Tondonia (en magnum!) set amongst small batch releases from David (Swarthland), also Piedmont's Le Piane and I Custodi's sought after Sicilian wine - a collection of unusual but excellent wine is found here. There are some solid touchstones for those seeking 'bigger names' too, with Vietti, Pieropan and Nikolaihof also found here. It's a very diverse collection here, full of excitement and delight, with vibrant, fresh expressions ideally matched to the casual nature of the cuisine. A reserve wine list of ultra-limited releases accompanies this core wine offering. Great fun and great drinking to be had here.

In its 65th year, Gaddis definitely deserves the title of institution. I wonder if upon opening, all those years ago, anyone could have anticipated there would be wines from both Thailand and Indonesia listed on the pages of its prestigious wine list. The wine list of Gaddis is indeed diverse, with a serious focus on Switzerland, whites from this small wine producing country, outnumber even those of Italy on this list. This vast selection perhaps overshadows many of the more classic regions, you would assume to be served in the french fine diner. Depth in the traditional wine growing regions of Burgundy and Bordeaux, you will find however when it comes to red wine, with a vast array of vintages from top producers. Those traveling solo will delight in finding perhaps the most extensive list of half bottles in Hong Kong, along with a nice selection of wines by the glass that celebrate everything from contemporary to the classics, which seems to be the signature of this list.

A very strong and well thought out list, beautifully presented to ensure the diversity of wines on offer will be noticed. The more recent interest in Portuguese red wines is reflected here with a strong range of offerings from Portugal and the USA is also particularly well represented with prestige wines and producers on the list. But it doesn't stop there, many of the world's wine regions are represented as are their wine styles. Don't ignore the Bordeaux section if the budget allows as there are plenty of gems available there. The wine by the glass list too is very well chosen.

Gosto with its focus on Macanese and Portuguese cuisine, understandably has a wonderful selection of Portuguese wines for diners to delve into. Additionally there is a solid selection of wines from around the world, well priced and varied from the classics to some more alternative selections, such as Koshu from Japan, which does have its own link to Portugal, with much of Japan's original vineyards planted by Portugal, and this particular producer being called Aruga Branca, has number of connections. Its these well sourced curios, in combination with the classics, that make this a great list.

An award-winning list that shows how it is done, especially in the art of food and wine matching. Every dish has a suitable pairing. The Champagne grouping is truly exciting with the list of Grower Champagnes nearly stealing the limelight. The list, with its French focus, seeks out value - hence, the number of second labels from major houses - as well as the iconic brands (including 19 extraordinary DRCs). All French regions are explored with Burgundy and Bordeaux leading the way. However, this is also a list noteworthy for sourcing small producers from the New World, notably Australia, that are worth a second look.

A lengthy and serious wine list that offers diners at Jing At The Peninsula an opportunity to revel in the world of finest, fine wine. Contained in these pages is a great collection of best wines from best wine regions from notable and top tier wine producers - the lengthy examples of Champagne, Bordeaux and Burgundy highlight this beyond expectation. It is a wine list that feels like it has been curated to showcase a enviable cellar and to allow diners access to rare and hard-to-find cuvees. A feature page on Krug with multiple back vintages sets the tone. A dedicated page featuring a selection of wines highlighting varying tannin profiles in red wines is an added bonus. French wine isn't the only trick, one need only look to the Piedmont section for marquee wines of Vietti, Ornellaia and Gaja to see more evidence of this most serious of wine lists. Australian greats like Clonakilla, Tyrrell's and Henschke help round out the list, with great additions from South Africa, USA and Spain.

A cleverly-chosen wine list that invites drinkers to explore a broad selection of international wines, with a focus on top tier winemakers and producers. Coravin pours by the glass allow for Trimbach Clos Ste. Hune or Guigal La Mouline to be purchased, while seasonal 'Signature' selections by the staff of Jing Yaa Tang showcase some of the more interesting and intriguing wines on this list. Chinese wines are also highlighted, found alongside an appealing selection of Chinese spirits. Mosel, Marlborough and Burgundy find a lot of the high points in this wine collection, but stay tuned for wines of Uruguay, Austria and the United States. Australia and New Zealand are particularly well spoken for, with 'best ofs' the focus. The list sits at around 300 wines which means that the selection is tightly curated but also expansive enough to have you pondering what to choose, especially as best vintages of recent years have been realised in the listings. It's a delightful wine program here.

Wine on list: 300 (22 by the glass)

Wine prices: $$$

By the glass: 75 - 330 RMB

Le Comptoir is French in name, food and, for the most part, wine. The French wine component to this quality world listing is outstanding, and totally in sync with the cuisine offered. It's hard to go past the 22 wines served by the glass, including a trio of refreshing Loire whites and a fascinating Chinese red incorporating the marselan grape (a cross of cabernet and grenache). Indeed, curious wine lovers will applaud the number of Chinese wines to be discovered in addition to regions less exposed such as Central Otago, Russian River Valley, Beaujolais and Neusiedlersee.

Wine prices: $

By the glass: 90 - 120 RMB

Lin Lounge, a lobby bar in the Double Tree by Hilton Hotel in Beijing, doesn't profess to have the largest wine list. Indeed, it is modest, but it is populated by a host of trust-worthy brands from Europe, South America, the US and Australasia. Names like Guigal, Trimbach, Masi, Penfolds, Beringer and Santa Rita fill the pages, covering a range of styles. And what would a lounge list be without a strong selection of spirits, cocktails and liqueurs.

By the glass: 55 - 128 RMB

A short wine list that offers some decent drinking amongst its limited selections. There's some good touchstones from headlining wine regions of the world, including Mosel, Tuscany, McLaren Vale and Champagne, though of course a couple of mature/higher end Bordeaux makes the grade for a section entitled 'Sommelier Selection'. Domaine Roulot and Chateau Clerc Milon are the big names on the table wine list, with Veuve Clicquot and Jacquesson chiming in from Champagne. It's great to see rising stars of New Zealand, Urlar, included, and d'Arenberg is a rock solid red in the heavier end of the selection. It's a list that offers choices, though not a lot of depth, but drinkability is written large in the selection.

A diverse and exciting wine list that showcases many of the world benchmarks for wine, with particular focus on Bordeaux and Burgundy, but also offers drinkers an opportunity to explore some of the emerging wine producers, wine regions and countries. That wines from Bulgaria and Denmark grace a list alongside collections of Domaine de la Romanée Conti, is part of the charm. There selections from Australian, USA and New Zealand may be shorter than expected, but the French wine selection is formidable. Champagne is also a highlight with many grower-producers, and their top cuvees, available, while cult, natural wines from the likes of Marie-Therese Chapez (Valais, Switzerland) and Broc Cellars (California, USA) appear alongside. It's an exciting proposition, particularly for a big name hotel like Four Seasons - it shows a finger on the pulse for wine culture. A list to be celebrated and enjoyed by many, the curation here is excellent.

This is an interesting list, written by a confident sommelier, keen to support producers and wines from lesser known regions. Its great to see a list that has found a way to balance listing wine from Slovenia to Syria with the classic wine regions of the world such as Burgundy and Alsace. Within in these regions however we find a well curated selection of both highly regarded and well known producers mixed with smaller up and coming producers. There is something here for everyone, its not all esoteric, the Champagne selection is broad and well thought out and the Bordeaux list on point, with a solid representation of top Chateaux and lesser known appellations, which in turn results in a very approachable list from a price point perspective. The time and effort put into crafting a list that is interesting and innovated is appreciated. Bravo!

Being an American steakhouse, red wines are king at Morton's. Yes, there is a lovely selection of quality white wine and a good selection of NV Champagne, but red wine is where all the action is. The range of American cabernet sauvignon is wildly impressive, with plenty of big names. There is also a great selection of Italian wines, arranged by region, and select representatives from famous French regions. Australian blockbusters are out in force, and there is a good selection from South America. If you love steak, and you love red wine, you will honestly be in heaven.

Im seeing red...red wine that is. The red wine selection at Morton's Steakhouse, shows depth across a range of the well known wine producing countries, along with some lesser known, such as Lebanon. The white wine selection is solid, but perhaps a little less of the focus, given the style of cuisine. American wines reign supreme and the coravin program will hopefully give you the chance to try a few of them by the glass.

The Morton's wine list flows red. After a quick aperitif - a sound selection of mostly non-vintage Champagne - it's straight to business with a world-wide listing of red wines, led by American and French cabernets. White wines definitely play a lesser role here in keeping with the steakhouse theme. Aged reds are a feature as is the tight collection of half bottles.

Cuisine: Japanese Cuisine

Wine list by Yohann Jouselin MS / Szabolcs Menesi

Wine on list: 110 (16 by the glass)

Wine prices: $$

By the glass: 90 - 195 HKD

This is a wine list brimming with big name wine producers from around the globe. It's a showcase of top end wine producers and their best wines, with excellent expressions from marquee wine regions. Therefore, you get Cloudy Bay and Dog Point Marlborough sauvignon blancs, or Hugel and Trimbach rieslings, or you can dive into shiraz from Torbreck, Auguste Clape or Château de Beaucastel, often with some serious cellaring. Indeed, the wine list seems to revel in mature wines, with listed with over five years age, in just about all categories. Champagne is also outstanding, with a mix of big names and some of the outstanding grower-producers like Larmandier Bernier and Seloisse. Of course, Bordeaux is a serious contender for best section of this wine list, with wines stretching back to the 1980s. Aromatic whites and an excellent collection of chardonnay are also highlights, and likely the best matched to the restaurant's Japanese cuisine. A suitably, quality wine list.

Wine on list: 48 (8 by the glass)

Wine prices: $$

By the glass: 75 - 120 RMB

This small list offers some variations on the Shangri-la Master List and is improved by that. As usual, there's a good selection by the glass at fair prices. The addition of Grosset, Tyrrell, Simon Bize and Clape give a stamp of authority to the list as well as the opportunity to try the classics.

The 2014 winner for Mainland China remains an exemplary list and among the great lists of the world. It's impressive by the glass even without the stunning group of Bordeaux's finest to tempt. Champagne dazzles before giving way to classics from Alsace, Burgundy, the Loire and the Rhone. There are delights from other parts of Europe, Australasia and the Americas. The great red of Napa - and eight vintages of Opus One - have a special place here.

The wide-ranging styles of food available all day at N'Joy are well-catered for in this 181-strong wine list devoted to quality producers from the world's best-known regions. Effort has gone into sourcing wines from within China, and searching out some of the underrated styles from established makers such as Torbreck's roussanne/marsanne/viognier and Feudi di San Gregorio's Cutizzi. Many can be found under "Off The Beaten Track," while "Drops of the Gods" will delight fans of the cult manga wine comic.

Starting with a stirring range of liquors and sakes, On56 at Shanghai's Grand Hyatt indicates its serious intent early on. It then presents a delicious snapshot of wines, primarily from Italy and France, that sit well with its food offerings. The comprehensive Bin End wine list deserves a look, so, too, the Champagne selection and there's a fair range of local Chinese wines on offer. Prices are generally fair.

By the glass: 78 - 398 RMB

A seriously excellent list that focuses on Italian wine but delivers an extraordinary journey around the world of fine wine, with strong representation from great wine regions. and wine producers, of France, Spain, Australia, New Zealand and more. Italian wine is the real hero, though, with high end producers from all over the country, though the stars come from brilliant Barolo and a great collection of vintage, cellar releases. While Piedmont and Tuscany might be a focal point, intriguing wines from cult producers like Friuli's orange wine maestro Gravner, or unusual wines of Sicily, are also found in these pages. There's strength in Bordeaux wines at Opera Bombana too, with particular interest in choice bottles from Chateau Haut-Brion, Cheval Blanc and Petrus. This is a very comprehensive wine list, finely chosen, well set out, and offering drinkers a high end experience to ably match the tenor of the dining.

This is a very well curated list, manicured and managed by a sommelier that is keen to showcase, not only the best, but more importantly the interesting. A mix of both iconic and eclectic, across a broad spectrum of price points means that there is something in here for every drinker. Our suggestion would be to start with something from their phenomenal selection of Champagnes which celebrates both the acclaimed large and lesser known small grower producers in perfect balance. Which is the key to this list - a wonderful balance.

A new addition to Shanghai, The Peacock Room, is to be applauded for its individual approach to presenting wine. It's made all the more challenging by being paired with modern, spicy Sichuan cooking. The list is anchored in classic wines and producers but after that it gets interesting. The Unknown, for instance, will delight those in search of alternate or indigenous grapes such as Piedmontese arneis, Sardinian vermentino or Sicilian frappato. The Chinese Experience is a must-try selection from sparklings through to Ningxia and Shanxi chardonnays and the emergence of the marselan grape as a seriously good quality Chinese wine.

Winner Best Wine by the Glass List

Winner Best Listing of Californian Wines

An incredible wine list that feels near complete in all its elements, from its fifty, extraordinary options by the glass, to its namesake collection of Petrus dating back to 1928, this is a sublime list that encompasses an amazing 1800 wines. The list broadly covers the great wines of the world, the best wine regions, wines of utmost significance, and stellar vintages. It is a wine list that goes heavy on fine Bordeaux but doesn't overlook the emerging wine regions from lesser-sung places. That being said, this is a wine collection that pays homage to classics, therefore you see superb selections from names like Raveneau, Jean-Louis Chave, Trimbach, Lafite-Rothschild, Cheval Blanc, and, of course, Romanee Conti. It is a list that is so comprehensive that diners will spend long periods of time agonising over their choices, though the sommelier team, led by Master Sommelier Yohann Jousselin, are some of the world's best. A truly outstanding collection, delivered to diners at Petrus.

Phenix presents a confident, accomplished wine list largely devoted to French wines - some from unexpected places such as a Corsican vermentino - that delivers value and interest. Great to see Alsatian riesling, Beaujolais and Loire Valley white wines taken seriously for their food-matching abilities. Outside France, expect a smattering of world wines, including unusual beauties like the assyrtiko grape from Greece. The cocktail and aperitif selection is world-class. Lots to enjoy here.

Shanghainese cooking is showcased at Pin Yue which raises the question, what wine goes with poached bullfrog? Maybe the answer lies in the strong list of Chinese liquors, or maybe on the tight selection of international wines. The small Cellar Collection will catch many an eye with Jostmeyer gewurztraminer, Opus One and Henschke Hill of Grace among the tempting offerings. Not that this list is just about expensive icons, there are also wines more modest and approachable, too.

*if you like mature wines, this is a list that excels. Indeed, it is quite amazing just how much carefully cellared wine appears in these pages, with scarce examples of more recent vintages, instead, offering diners a grand opportunity to drink wines in excellent drinking windows. The list, of course, covers most bases of international fine wine, with a particular focus on outstanding Italian wine regions, Bordeaux, Burgundy and a surprising number of wines from the United States. The list is stacked with boutique wine producers, but there's plenty of common ground in wines from famed winemakers like Giuseppe Mascarello, Gaja or Mouton Rothschild, but don't miss gems from Greece, Australia or New Zealand in the mix too. Spirits are also a great feature of this wine list, with a tempting collection of single malts a highlight, though those inclined will find a Chinese spirits of interest too. What can one say about a list that feels near complete in terms of covering the global highlights of international wine, including extensive back vintage collections, rarities, emerging wine styles and regions, and a selection of first rate spirits? The list at Robuchon Au Dome is epic - over 550 pages covering a staggering 16,800 wines. It is an encyclopaedia of wine, with a tremendous offering of outstanding Champagne, from smallest grower-producer to amazing grand marque back vintages, a mesmerising listing of high class Burgundy, including Romanee Conti, Coche-Dury and Leflaive, with stellar examples listed from top flight Germany riesling vigneron and Piedmont's highest rated Barolo. It is near impossible to convey the magnitude and depth of this list, safe to say that there truly is something for everyone, with high end drinking the motif. It must be such a pleasure working with a cellar of this magnitude, and the list is a testimony to careful but near endless selection.

*A well-chosen wine list that travels to all corners of the globe, but drops a firm anchor into the extraordinary wines of Domaine de la Romanee Conti for good measure. Indeed, the wine list seems to be mostly orientated to best value, high end wine producers, aside a striking collection of DRC. You can drink wine from Austria to Australia, Champagne to China, with a scattering of USA, New Zealand and Germany in between. Mostly represented are the marquee wine styles of highest profile wine regions of the world, with notable producers including Te Mata, Ridge Vineyards, John Duval and Joh.Jos.Priim included. Most wines are from more or less current release, but there is a good selection of wines with some medium term and longer term cellaring on board. The selection of Bordeaux is, of course, lengthy too, with a good listing of First Growths, and other Bordeaux wines listed under their various growths, which is handy when selecting. Highly acclaimed sommelier Meiyu Li is the architect behind this stunning international wine list. The tone is set from the very start with a page of regionally diverse, premium Chinese wine. The by-the-glass offering is small, yet beautiful, and you can sample a range of wines by ordering a wine flight. There are handy symbols to help match wines to the food, as well as flagging wines made by organic and biodynamic principles. There's an impressive selection of matured wines, with the red wines pairing beautifully with the many rich meat dishes on offer! It is a beautifully-crafted, global list that includes an astute listing of labels. Bravo!

A succinct and vibrant wine list that complements the innovative Beijinese cuisine. The wines are arranged into categories such as 'Acid' and 'Off Dry' for the whites, and 'Spicy' and 'Cool' for the reds. Quality 'New World' producers such a Valli from New Zealand, and Moss Wood and Jim Barry from Australia, pepper the list. There is also a good selection of Chinese white spirits and rice wine, plus a few sakes from Japan.

The Summer Palace list starts with a selection by well known wine critic Robert Parker, some of his most highly rated wines, can be yours to try. Of course the price tag of these wines, may not be suited to everyone, the pages that follow guide you through a selection of wines from the classic wine producing regions of the world. There are few moments where there sommelier has the opportunity to perhaps celebrate something a little more left of centre, but these are few and far between. It is clear that the intention of this list is to celebrate the iconic wines of the world, of which it does well, within a concise well manicured selection.

The House Collective is a name you should know. The four first class venues: Upper, Middle, Opposite and Temple leave no doubt as to the heights that China will scale for luxury and prestige. The Sureno restaurant at Opposite House is further example of this. The wine list is in both Chinese and English. It lists expertly selected wines from all across the globe, and mainland China, and is an exercise in adventure, elegance and variety. Super Tuscan, American superstars, Bordeaux cornerstones, Burgundian beauties, and wines from Australia and New Zealand are just the tip of the iceberg here. There are champagnes, old Grange, Guigal (La Mouline by the glass!), Chapoutier, Bouchard, Salon, Domaine Leroy and more. We are delighted to see a good selection of wines from China here. In short, a great list, and everything we would expect from a Hotel of this quality. Salud Sureno!

The Sushi Raku wine list is curated by Max Haahr who takes great pride in sourcing wine direct from some of the world's smaller, more interesting wine producers. The emphasis on fresh sushi and sashimi gives the sommelier the opportunity to explore a number of highly aromatic and spice-fuelled white wine styles such as Loire Valley chenin blanc, German riesling, Austrian gruner veltliner and Australian chardonnay. Reds are medium-bodied and gentle on oak led by Japan's Grace Kayagatake cabernet blend. There's something here for everyone and prices are fair.

By the glass: 65 - 390 MOP

A very serious wine list that offers a full complement of outstanding, big name, premium wine producers. Indeed, this is a list that nearly entirely focuses on prestigious wine, with little in the entry level to entice the novice drinker, instead pitching squarely at the best-of-the-best level of wines. By the glass is an incredible array of top flight wines in itself, with rarely seen Lopez de Heredia Viña Tondonia on offer between significant names like Loimer, Niepoort and Alion. There's exceptional wines listed under Bordeaux, a raft of outstanding Champagne including rare wines from Jacques Selosse. Indeed, the premium wines here are engrossing, though the real asset is the hard-to-select-from, masterful back catalogue of Chablis and Burgundy, or, as an example, the collection of mature Léoville Las Cases. Quite extraordinary how many collectable, rare wines are gathered here. An outstanding collection.

Table No. 1's strength rests in a wine list married to a food menu that explores Modern Europe in its many facets. Start with a "tasting" trio of Deutz Champagne - brut, blanc de blancs, rose - and move into an Hungarian furmint or Chablis. Red wines are probably the star here, from tasty Bourgogne and barbera d'Asti to a lone Spanish red from Castilla y Leon. A range of wine budgets is catered for.

T'ang Court at the Langham is opulent Chinese dining at its best. This heavily awarded and Michelin Starred Cantonese restaurant shows us a discerning, cleverly curated list that touches on every great wine style in the world. From the list of 1st Growth Bordeaux, hard-to-find champagnes, and a Burgundy collection that is refined and exciting, T'ang has one of the most balanced lists we've seen in a long while. We love the Chinese wines available on the list, so too the Japanese Sake selection. An interesting inclusion to have a whole page dedicated to organic wine - a nod to the world trend that is sweeping the wine-drinking community at home and abroad. T'ang is not to be missed: old world Chinese opulence get a modern and fresh twist with this intellectually crafted wine list - bravo.

Authentic wood fired pizzas, housemate pasta, an extensive wine list featuring all of the Italian greats... Tavola Italian is a home away from home in Beijing. The thirteen wines by the glass take us on a journey across Italy, from the volcanic mountain of Etna, through Tuscany and up into the rolling foothills of Piedmont. It is a thorough representation of what we can expect from the main list beyond. The list itself features all of the Italian masters: think Ornellaia, Gaja, Vietti, Pio Cesare, Elio Altare, Aldo Conterno, Antinori and La Spinetta, to name but a few. Tucked into the list is an extensive selection of premier and grand cru Burgundy, cellared 1st Growths dating back to the 70's, and wines from Australia, New Zealand, America, Germany, Austria, Argentina and China. To wrap up, there is a good selection of dessert wines, spirits, digestifs and beers, plus many other post-dinner delights. Bravo Tavola!

Winner Best List Macau SRA

What a list! We wouldn't normally start by extolling the virtues of the wines available en magnum, however it is necessary here. There is a full selection of 1st Growth Bordeaux, Super Tuscans to the tune of Ornellaia, Sassacaia, Brunello di Montalcinos, Barolos, Barbarescos and Champagne. There is even a double magnum of Lafite - no doubt purchased en primeur and about as flashy as it gets. The options by the glass include premium wines via Coravin, Gaja, Domaine Leroy and Amarone del Valpolicella. The main list is extensive and crosses most continents in pursuit of great wines. From cult grower to prestige grand marque Champagne houses, hard to find vintages, interestingly curated white wines across a wide variety of styles and countries, to a long list of the world's great red wines, Terrazza essentially has it all. Well deserving of 3 glasses in 2018, a continuation of the high quality its customers have come to expect. A brilliantly curated, 'must-see' wine experience.

By the glass: 55 - 120 MOP

A tiny list, that proves mini, can indeed be mighty. The Apron is an Oyster bar, and as you would expect and hope, at least half the wines available are sparkling. The bubbles available cover a surprisingly wide range of styles: blanc de blancs, blanc de noir, rose, NV and Cava. There is a pleasing amount of cult grower champagne available, illustrating a verve for champagne on the part of the sommelier. The whites wines are perfectly selected for seafood - textured, layered, fresh and exciting, showcasing Chablis, New Zealand sauvignon blanc, Hunter Valley semillon, muscadet, vermentino and German riesling. Many smiles are induced by this selection. The reds show a penchant for tannin and acidity and come from 8 different corners of the wine world. There are craft beers, spirits, liqueurs and just as many non-alcoholic options... The Apron shows us what wonders can be revealed in a lilliputian list of only 36 wines. A refreshing and exciting corner of Macau!

Is this the largest wine list in the world? The Eight in Macau boasts a gargantuan list - a total of 16,800 wines, it must be getting close. There is not a great wine that is not listed here. 9 pages of Champagne's greatest cuvees, from vintages that are almost impossible to source dating back to the 1950's, plus magnums! There are 30+ pages of Burgundy whites - yes this includes over 600 grand cru (Montrachet and DRC within) and countless premier cru and beyond. Apply this to the rest of the list and you get the idea - almost priceless bottles of 1st Growths from great years, Grange, DRC, Screaming Eagle, more Gaja than you could poke a stick at, large formats, old Italians, wines from far flung places, and a list of d'Yquem that brings chuckles of disbelief - back to 1825 if you can believe it. An impressive cellar, but bring your reading glasses and your wallet, this is a seriously big read.

A wine list that embraces the world's best wine regions, and some of the world's best known wine producers, with a solid back catalogue of cellared gems and some more 'unusual' listings from Chile, Lebanon and USA. It's great to see the breadth of offering here, from ultra-rare wines like Soldera from Tuscany to a swathe of featured Bordeaux all from the landmark 1982 vintage. Indeed, Bordeaux is grandly featured in the list, with benchmark chateaux showcased across multiple vintages. For the enthusiasts of a broader palette, there's a seriously good collection of wines from Portugal here, a wine growing country that often is sidelined or limited in exposure. A scattering of top end, big names from Australia and New Zealand round out the offering well, with a highlight being the range of Penfold's wines with some cellaring. This is a list that seems carefully considered to give clientele a grand journey through global wines and wine styles.

The Manor in Macao, combines laid back dining and an upmarket setting. The fine Portuguese cuisine is paired to an international winelist, featuring wines from all over the globe. With well selected and exciting options from France, Portugal, Australia, New Zealand, America, Germany, Alsace, Argentina, America and Chile, there is surely something to suit all tastes. If wine is not your preferred drink, The Manor plays host to a large selection of spirits, cocktails (including the Bloody Mary done ten different ways), craft beers, freshly squeezed juices, teas and tonics. A home away from home for those visiting Macau.

Dry-aged, Australian wagyu takes centre stage at The Meat and diners can expect some excellent accompanying medium and full-bodied reds from around the world on the wine list. But this list offers so much more, from the organic and the bio-dynamic to classic, super premium French wines, to emerging stars from New World regions. The section on Domaine de la Romanee-Conti is 26-wines strong from multiple vintages and is highly tempting, while there's a look at the wines of the first generation of Chinese winemakers.

Winner Best Hotel Restaurant List

A very serious wine list that celebrates a wealth of global wines across some 800 listings, this is a very well put together collection that highlights top flight producers alongside those from emerging wine regions. Therefore, diners can enjoy wines from marquee regions like Bordeaux, Burgundy, Piedmont, Champagne, but likewise explore some unique examples from Switzerland or Turkey, though it is amusing to see things like Hunter Valley semillon or chenin blanc from Stellenbosch listed under 'indigenous and curiosities'! Champagne is particularly well-considered amongst the breadth of selection here, with a range that covers prestigious 'big name' houses to smaller, grower producers. Wine aficionados will appreciate the modest but well-selected collection of mature wines too, particularly in the Italian reds selections, with Piedmont and Tuscany allowing enthusiasts to drink back to the 1990s.

Winner Best List Western China

Except for the spirits, his is the same list as Jing Bar which is also located in the Temple House. This is an impressive international list covering most parts of the world. The excellent selection by the glass has been considerably expanded by the use of Coravin. Five wine flights offer the opportunity to taste more widely while many will find the Sommelier's Choice useful. The Spotlight on Chinese Wines is a significant innovation

For such a small wine list of just 38 wines, Umi covers a lot of wine ground. The listing is adventurous and daring in conception with the odd rare gem such as Terres Dorees sparkling gamay from Beaujolais, the small family Champagne house of Chartogne-Taillet and Japanese sweet plum wines. As well as the eclectic, there are also long-time favourites from established producers. The list of sake confirms its Japanese credentials, as does the highly imaginative cocktail list. Matcha Sour or Wasabi Daiquiri, anyone?

The wine shoot smoked Canadian beef steak at the Vue Bar is certainly a cut above the usual bar snacks offered. Luckily, there is a red wine just waiting to be matched on the wine list. Maybe a Guigal Rhone syrah, a Gaja merlot-syrah-sangiovese or, for those, lashing out, a Chateau Palmer 2009 cabernet sauvignon. The wine list isn't the biggest but it does serve the snack menu well. This is also the place for a classic cocktail, martini or whisky.

Its often these short, more edgy lists that excite us most. Its easy to tell that this is where the sommelier of the Shangri La gets to list the wines that he or she would like to drink - what really excites them at the moment. Which means that this style of list would always be evolving, everytime you visit the Waterside Terrace, there would be something new and exciting for you to try. Within a very concise selection you can find everything from delicious dry Furmint to top Burgundy, all selected perfectly to accompany the aromatic and fresh food of Thailand. Bravo!

This is a list that is stuffed full of extraordinary producers from marquee wine regions, with a strong focus on Burgundy, Bordeaux, Rhone Valley, Champagne and various Australian prestige wine growing areas. There's a very good addition of Chinese wine and rice wines too. Diners should find the collection of Didier Dagueneau and Coche Dury tantalising from the white wine selections, while red wine producers like Haut Brion, Chapoutier, Gaja and Vega Sicilia are found across multiple vintages, in some cases dating back to the 1980s. Portugal has an unusually strong showing too, with top end winemakers like Quinta do Vale Dona Maria, Quinta do Vale Meão and Herdade do Mouchão having a good showing in this list. Top end wines dominate the offering, giving diners a big night out experience while dining at Zi Yat Heen. It's a well-chosen list here.*

A clever wine list that showcases the breadth of personality of Italian wine, from fine-boned alpine reds and whites through to warmer, generous expressions from the south. It's a list that anchors itself in natural wine producers and those who are working organically, so the more classic producers are absent but the exploration of Italy's avant garde wines is thrilling. Highlights come from obscurities like nebbiolo from Valtellina or orange wine produced by superstar Friuli vigneron Dario Princic, but there's some more familiar ground in a stellar vertical of Giuseppe Cappellano Barolos or Donnafugata's SurSur refreshing grillo. The venue offers a multitude of snacks taking cues from various western European cuisines, so working through the well-chosen by the glass offering is as tempting as settling in for a bottle of something special. Don't miss the neat collection of rare amaros too. A brilliant little wine bar here.

Winner Best Airline List

A stunning wine list of the highest quality enticing high-flying wine lovers to choose Air France as their premier airline. Let a glass of Krug fade worries from the ground before selecting from a compact set of exceptional wines. Vintage and producer are carefully considered, and the informative descriptions will have you an expert before landing.

AKME

No.55 Wulumuqi South Road, Xuhui District, Shanghai
200031

021-64699969

Cuisine: French Creative Dining

Wine list by Louis Lu / Stan Fang

Wine on list: 411 (13 by the glass)

Wine prices: $$$

By the glass: 80 - 360 RMB

Akme opened last year offering "French Creative Dining" and a wine list that embraces the best of France. Francophiles will love the near exhaustive array of white and red Burgundies and Bordeaux wines. However, they don't have exclusivity. Germany, Austria, Spain and Italy also have a strong supporting role. The emphasis, grape-wise, is on chardonnay, cabernet sauvignon and pinot noir. Multiple vintages from top producers are a feature.

ANGELINI, KOWLOON SHANGRI-LA

Cuisine: Italian

Wine list by Raducki Stephen

Wine on list: 280 (23 by the glass)

Wine prices: $$$

By the glass: 85 - 900 HKD

Starting with the Sommelier's Private Cellar selection, really sets the tone for the intention of this wine list. The best of Italy with a serious appreciation for the rewards that patience brings in the wine world. This list is a delight to read through, with each page playing host to some of Italy's (and France) most sought after wines. The depth of vintages across the regions of Piedmont, Veneto and Tuscany does not go unappreciated, these wines are hard to find, and it seems as though the cellar at the Shangri-La Kowloon is a treasure trove of these rarities. So often are, the great wines of the world drunk before their time, you will be in no harm of this at Angelini, with so much listed, in the perfect drinking window. For those just hoping for a taste of these delights, there is a coravin program, so you may be in luck and find them also being served by the glass.

ARIA, CHINA WORLD HOTEL

Cuisine: Western Style

Wine list by Gary Zhang

Wine on list: 452 (22 by the glass)

Wine prices: $$$

By the glass: 90 - 300 RMB

A high calibre list, beautifully presented, with care given to vintage selection. A balanced, classy selection by the glass. Helpful maps set the scene for the different regions. There is an impressive selection of Burgundy and Bordeaux as well as a strong New World listing. Serious wine lovers will be in their element.

ARIA BAR, CHINA WORLD HOTEL

Cuisine: Tapas
Wine list by Gary Zhang
Wine on list: 18 (18 by the glass)
Wine prices: $$
By the glass: 90 - 230 RMB

Settle in for an evening a tapas and cocktails at the sophisticated Aria Bar. Enjoy vibrant signature drinks or perhaps a nip of aged Cognac or Grappa. However, it will be hard to resist the single malt collection with over forty on offer. The wine offering is succinct but well-chosen with strength across the range. Enjoy a glass of Champagne, white Burgundy, or an aromatic New Zealand pinot noir. Care has been taken with vintage selection, which is always good to see.

Cuisine: Chinese
Wine list by Yinhua Liao
Wine on list: 145 (8 by the glass)
Wine prices: $$
By the glass: 90 - 120 RMB

Overall, Baiyulan presents an impressive beverage selection. A lovely range of Chinese tea and an excellent selection of spirits, particularly Chinese liquor and rice wine. An incredibly extensive collection of Japanese sake and shochu. French wines are a strength, and there is also a good offering of Italian and Spanish reds. Keep an eye on vintage when ordering.

BAROLO, THE RITZ CARLTON BEIJING

Cuisine: Italian

Wine list by Billy Tao

Wine on list: 232 (22 by the glass)

Wine prices: $$$

By the glass: 80 - 300 RMB

As expected for a restaurant of this calibre, this is a comprehensive international wine list with appropriate breadth and depth. Its real strength lies in its collection of red wines, with Italy, as expected, well-represented. However, it is also great to see an extensive listing of Australian and American red wines. The French collection is sublime.

BEBA RESTAURANT AND BAR, HYATT

Cuisine: Southeast Asia

Wine list by Allan Li

Wine on list: 80 (12 by the glass)

Wine prices: $$

By the glass: 55 - 110 RMB

Although this bar has a highly impressive beer list, it's the wine that has taken pride of place in the menu. The offering has steadily improved over the years, with the wines on offer tailored to the South-East Asian cuisine. Care has been taken to list quality producers from around the globe, and there's a wide range of prices and styles to cater for everyone's budget and palate. A small, well-balanced wine list with much to offer.

Cuisine: Steak and Seafood

Wine list by Grant Wu

Wine on list: 200 (13 by the glass)

Wine prices: $$$

By the glass: 98 - 158 RMB

A solid list brimming with premium, dependable labels. All bases are covered, whether you are after a top Italian or Australia red, or a first growth Bordeaux. Names like Egon Muller, Ata Rangi and Antinori grace the pages and there are plenty of icon wines on offer such as Opus One and Chateau Latour. Good to see a solid selection of local Chinese wine too.

BENE, SHERATON GRAND MACAO HOTEL,

Wine list by Ben Bost

Wine on list: 166 (13 by the glass)

Wine prices: $$

By the glass: 75 - 120 MOP

Bene combines both quality and diversity in their concise and interesting wine list. There is something to suit everyone's tastes and budget and although Italian wines are a focus, in keeping with the Italian cuisine, there is a good range of other delightful wines from around the globe. The wine by the glass or carafe list provides a small but very nice selection of international wines and if you are there on a Wednesday or Thursday, enjoy one of the mid-week, well priced, wine specials.

Cuisine: Modern French

Wine list by Feifei Liu

Wine on list: 248 (14 by the glass)

Wine prices: $$$

By the glass: 70 - 175 RMB

Winner Best Wine Bar List

A new name in Shanghai and definitely one to watch, Cafe Deluxe, shows a deft hand with its wine list, delivering some serious imbibing alongside wines more playful and, at times, controversial. The emphasis, in keeping with its modern French food mantra, rests on France but the diner is far from restricted, with Old World as well as New World wines showcased. Start with a glass of aged Chablis served under Coravin or a small flight of wines for comparison and take it from there.

Cuisine: Snacks

Wine list by N/A

Wine on list: 52 (10 by the glass)

Wine prices: $$

By the glass: 50 - 80 RMB

The food menu at Campus contains just nine snacks, including duck neck, chicken feet and fries. It's modest in number, no so the 52-strong wine list that accompanies it. There are some surprises in store, like the Cellar Collection with Henschke 2005 Hill of Grace shiraz, 2008 Opus One and Antinori's 2008 Solaia. It's also possible to order some tasty wines by the glass from around the world such as Dr Loosen riesling, Les Jamelles and Chateau Lagrange.

CANTON, THE VENETIAN MACAO

Cuisine: Cantonese

Wine list by Christian Calipusan / Jimmy Valentine

Wine on list: 645 (11 by the glass)

Wine prices: $$$

By the glass: 48 - 133 MOP

This is a solid wine list with a broad selection of wines from the old world and USA. If you are a lover of the classic regions of Barolo, Bordeaux and the cult wineries of the Napa Valley then you will find a happy place amidst it's pages. There is a strong selection of older vintages from these areas, along with a few gems hidden amongst them such as a 2006 Domain Sigalas Assyrtiko from Santorini for something a little more quirky. Lovers of the new world may be left wanting a little more, but perhaps given you are in Macau, it might be a good opportunity to try some of the wines of Portugal, there is a good selection to be found here.

CAPRICE, FOUR SEASONS HOTEL HONG

KONG 🍷🍷🍷

P6, 8 Finance Street, Central, Hong Kong (and SAR)

Cuisine: French

Wine list by Victor Petiot

Wine on list: 1300 (20 by the glass)

Wine prices: $$$

By the glass: 150 - 410 HKD

The Caprice wine list is a beautifully composed journey through the regions of France. All of the best wines from the best producers can be found, along with some lesser known producers and appellations. This however is not a list where every wine is simply listed for the sake of it, each wine has been carefully selected and therefore whilst still being extensive, is not difficult to navigate. If France is not your thing, fear not, each major wine producing country is well represented. A list to rival the top restaurants of Paris, with something for everyone.

CAPRICE BAR, FOUR SEASONS HOTEL

Wine list by Victor Petiot

Wine on list: 60 (25 by the glass)

Wine prices: $$$

By the glass: 140 - 260 HKD

French wine and food are the focus here at Caprice Bar. The wine list has been well chosen with great examples that showcase the diversity of French wine and this same comment can be made about the wine by the glass list where 25 wines provide very good choice. In addition to wine, there is a wonderful selection of other beverages, notably Cognac, Armagnac and Whisky.

Strong brands pepper the list at The Cathay Room. The selection has a freshness and energy, with lesser known boutique producers like Austins & Co from Geelong in Australia, to assyrtiko from renowned Greek producer Sigalas. Burgundy and Bordeaux are well represented, and Chinese wines have pride of place at the front of the list, complete with an informative regional map. A well-balanced, international list with much to love.

Wine list by Rohnny He

Wine on list: 101 (13 by the glass)

Wine prices: $$

By the glass: 88 - 168 RMB

Now in its eighth year, Char Bar & Grill, continues to present an easily navigable world wine listing led by France and Australia. It's a good list, but it must be said its real strength lies in a selection of red wines entirely suited to the restaurant's reputation as a steakhouse. Such choice, from the rustic and earthy Spanish tempranillo and South African shiraz through to Sonoma cabernet sauvignon and classic Barolo. Wines by the glass include a Chinese cabernet worth exploring.

Cuisine: Aisian Delight

Wine list by Allen Zhang

Wine on list: 32 (12 by the glass)

Wine prices: $$

By the glass: 60 - 125 RMB

We have to say for a small wine list, Coffee Garden Harbin, nails it. The pressure from having to select just 32 wines from both the Old World and the New, doesn't appear to concern the sommelier at all. Allen Zhang forges ahead, borrowing classic and alternative grape varieties from their most distinctive sources, whether it's a riesling from the Mosel, a gewurztraminer from Alsace or a valpolicella from the Veneto. The odd cabernet from South Africa and malbec from Argentina adds extra spice to this terrific list.

Cuisine: American Style

Wine list by Dennis Coronado / Caesar Dou

Wine on list: 378 (17 by the glass)

Wine prices: $$

By the glass: 70 - 110 MOP

Balance is the signature of this list - with neither too much or too little of anything. Considerable effort has been made to spread this selection evenly across all major wine producing countries. There is some emphasis on the wines of Bordeaux, the USA and with relatively more wines from Portugal than you would usually find, of a list of this size, but all very suitable choices for a steakhouse found in Macau. Additionally it is also refreshing to see a nice balance of price points across the selection with some very affordable wines to be found and interesting wines by the glass.

Coquille Seafood Bistro is to be congratulated on a wine list perfectly in tune with the cuisine offered, in this case, seafood in the French-style. White wines concentrate on lighter, spicier and the more aromatic such as riesling and gewurztraminer. Red wines follow suit with medium-bodied and fragrant examples from the Loire, Beaujolais and Burgundy as well as beyond. The sommelier's mix of large and small Champagne houses and choice of roses -such good all-rounders with any seafood - are master strokes. Prices are fair, value is excellent.

Order a bottle of fine Champagne and be mesmerised by the extraordinary range of international oysters. The wine list is just fabulous, with many well-known labels and lesser-known boutique producers. The selection of white wine suits the seafood-focused menu with a good range of riesling and sauvignon blanc. There is also a top selection of reds. Its a carefully composed, international list filled with many great wines.

This is not a particularly large wine list, but it will meet many a diner's budget with a range of sound, approachable wines at fair prices. De Carbon Bar, with its barbecue-focused menu, plays the field as far as wine is concerned, balancing a mix of styles from as close to home as Ningxia to as far away as Argentina, the US and Australia. Wines are listed according to style, a nice approach, and vintages are mostly young, within the last decade.

A mind-blowing wine list that holds nearly 17,000 different labels with a near complete holding of every great wine known on earth. The number of cuvees alone should impress, but that the sommelier team has managed to select best vintages, source huge vertical runs of marquee wines, traverse a breadth of wine styles and wine-growing countries, and still find wine that is affordable is quite remarkable. There is so much to note, but particularly distinguished are releases from Chateau Haut-Brion, the incredible collection of Dom Perignon Plenitude wines, or the outstanding collection of German riesling. In the end, this is an encyclopaedic list that will blow away wine buffs but offer comfort to those beginning their exploration of the world of wine. Let the sommeliers guide you through this outstanding collection and dive in deep.

The strength of this wine list is with the dedicated focus on Grace Vineyard's Chinese wine offering, but this is enhanced by a very good collection of top end European wines. Egon Müller Scharzhofberger, Chateau Lafite Rothschild and Vega Sicilia are examples of the very serious, high reputation wines that are found amongst staples of the international wine world. The cuisine is French, so French wine is the strongest asset in this wine list, with good representation from notable regions of Rhone Valley, Alsace, but most importantly, Bordeaux. Indeed, Bordeaux really is the most prevalent region showcased, with a good spread of 'Growths' and producers. Don't miss some of one of Australia's great cult wine producers, Bass Phillip, also found in this relatively well-rounded list.

A collection of the classics with a strong emphasis on both Burgundy and Bordeaux. A catalogue of vintages of the top producers abounds, but perhaps to the detriment of some of the smaller, yet exciting wineries. This perhaps gives the list a sense of being weighted towards the heavy hitting high price tag wines, so if you have cash to splash, this the list for you. Perhaps a broader wine by the glass selection would help to balance out this impression.

Winner Best Small List

A short and sweet wine list that focuses on smaller, grower-producers with a leaning towards the sect of natural wine. It's a wine list that is decidedly set to expressive wines from more obscure but noteworthy winemakers and regions, with quality in mind. It's great to see wines from cult producer Vina Tondonia (en magnum!) set amongst small batch releases from David (Swarthland), also Piedmont's Le Piane and I Custodi's sought after Sicilian wine - a collection of unusual but excellent wine is found here. There are some solid touchstones for those seeking 'bigger names' too, with Vietti, Pieropan and Nikolaihof also found here. It's a very diverse collection here, full of excitement and delight, with vibrant, fresh expressions ideally matched to the casual nature of the cuisine. A reserve wine list of ultra-limited releases accompanies this core wine offering. Great fun and great drinking to be had here.

In its 65th year, Gaddis definitely deserves the title of institution. I wonder if upon opening, all those years ago, anyone could have anticipated there would be wines from both Thailand and Indonesia listed on the pages of its prestigious wine list. The wine list of Gaddis is indeed diverse, with a serious focus on Switzerland, whites from this small wine producing country, outnumber even those of Italy on this list. This vast selection perhaps overshadows many of the more classic regions, you would assume to be served in the french fine diner. Depth in the traditional wine growing regions of Burgundy and Bordeaux, you will find however when it comes to red wine, with a vast array of vintages from top producers. Those traveling solo will delight in finding perhaps the most extensive list of half bottles in Hong Kong, along with a nice selection of wines by the glass that celebrate everything from contemporary to the classics, which seems to be the signature of this list.

A very strong and well thought out list, beautifully presented to ensure the diversity of wines on offer will be noticed. The more recent interest in Portuguese red wines is reflected here with a strong range of offerings from Portugal and the USA is also particularly well represented with prestige wines and producers on the list. But it doesn't stop there, many of the world's wine regions are represented as are their wine styles. Don't ignore the Bordeaux section if the budget allows as there are plenty of gems available there. The wine by the glass list too is very well chosen.

Winner Best Food & Wine Matching List
Winner Best Listing of Australian Wines

An award-winning list that shows how it is done, especially in the art of food and wine matching. Every dish has a suitable pairing. The Champagne grouping is truly exciting with the list of Grower Champagnes nearly stealing the limelight. The list, with its French focus, seeks out value - hence, the number of second labels from major houses - as well as the iconic brands (including 19 extraordinary DRCs). All French regions are explored with Burgundy and Bordeaux leading the way. However, this is also a list noteworthy for sourcing small producers from the New World, notably Australia, that are worth a second look.

Wine list by David Gong
Wine on list: 181 (13 by the glass)
Wine prices: $$
By the glass: 90 - 180 RMB

Fans of the best-selling Manga comic, Drops of Gods, will delight in the offerings to found here on the last page of the Jia wine list. Which isn't to say wine lovers in general won't be delighted with the rest of the list. It pays attention to styles of wines suited to its cuisine, namely aromatics and medium-bodied wines from around the world for Cantonese and Huai'an cooking, and a nod to the Italians for the Mediterranean-inspired foods. There's a bit of fun, too, when the list offers wines "Off The Beaten Track."

Cuisine: Modern French

Wine list by Ivan Ye

Wine on list: 450 (16 by the glass)

Wine prices: $$$

By the glass: 80 - 180 RMB

A lengthy and serious wine list that offers diners at Jing At The Peninsula an opportunity to revel in the world of finest, fine wine. Contained in these pages is a great collection of best wines from best wine regions from notable and top tier wine producers - the lengthy examples of Champagne, Bordeaux and Burgundy highlight this beyond expectation. It is a wine list that feels like it has been curated to showcase a enviable cellar and to allow diners access to rare and hard-to-find cuvees. A feature page on Krug with multiple back vintages sets the tone. A dedicated page featuring a selection of wines highlighting varying tannin profiles in red wines is an added bonus. French wine isn't the only trick, one need only look to the Piedmont section for marquee wines of Vietti, Ornellaia and Gaja to see more evidence of this most serious of wine lists. Australian greats like Clonakilla, Tyrrell's and Henschke help round out the list, with great additions from South Africa, USA and Spain.

Winner Best Wine List Northern China

A cleverly-chosen wine list that invites drinkers to explore a broad selection of international wines, with a focus on top tier winemakers and producers. Coravin pours by the glass allow for Trimbach Clos Ste. Hune or Guigal La Mouline to be purchased, while seasonal 'Signature' selections by the staff of Jing Yaa Tang showcase some of the more interesting and intriguing wines on this list. Chinese wines are also highlighted, found alongside an appealing selection of Chinese spirits. Mosel, Marlborough and Burgundy find a lot of the high points in this wine collection, but stay tuned for wines of Uruguay, Austria and the United States. Australia and New Zealand are particularly well spoken for, with 'best ofs' the focus. The list sits at around 300 wines which means that the selection is tightly curated but also expansive enough to have you pondering what to chose, especially as best vintages of recent years have been realised in the listings. It's a delightful wine program here.

Italian red wines are the star here from Tuscany and Piemonte through to Sicily, with a good mix of grape varieties, styles and vintages to choose from. Start with a glass of prosecco from the Veneto, followed by a glass of Sartori pinot grigio, before casting a serious eye to the reds. Many of the wines are brought in direct, something that sommelier Max Haahr says is a strength of his list, providing value for money.

Cuisine: Italian

Wine list by Kerry Qin

Wine on list: 340 (19 by the glass)

Wine prices: $$$

By the glass: 78 - 178 RMB

A new list that combines the flavour of Italy with a sprinkling of world wines, some quite daring. The wine philosophy pays due deference to Italy and its strengths, particularly Piedmont and Tuscany, while also casting out a wider net to embrace classic wine regions and their wines as well as new trends. Hence, expect to see a Soave up against an Israeli chardonnay, a Montepulciano opposite an Argentinian malbec. Natural wines are listed and there is a particularly good bunch of sweet wines on offer.

Tempranillo and garnacha are as Spanish as paella and chorizo. All can be found at Las Tapas, which nicely marries a smart selection of Spanish wines with a suitably Spanish-inspired menu. Many of the wines are easy-drinking and approachable, just the style required for informal dining. However, should a quality step-up be wanted, big names Alto Moncayo, Vega Sicilia and Jean Leon help fill the gap. Prices are fair.

Le Comptoir is French in name, food and, for the most part, wine. The French wine component to this quality world listing is outstanding, and totally in sync with the cuisine offered. It's hard to go past the 22 wines served by the glass, including a trio of refreshing Loire whites and a fascinating Chinese red incorporating the marselan grape (a cross of cabernet and grenache). Indeed, curious wine lovers will applaud the number of Chinese wines to be discovered in addition to regions less exposed such as Central Otago, Russian River Valley, Beaujolais and Neusiedlersee.

A short wine list that offers some decent drinking amongst its limited selections. There's some good touchstones from headlining wine regions of the world, including Mosel, Tuscany, McLaren Vale and Champagne, though of course a couple of mature/higher end Bordeaux makes the grade for a section entitled 'Sommelier Selection'. Domaine Roulot and Chateau Clerc Milon are the big names on the table wine list, with Veuve Clicquot and Jacquesson chiming in from Champagne. It's great to see rising stars of New Zealand, Urlar, included, and d'Arenberg is a rock solid red in the heavier end of the selection. It's a list that offers choices, though not a lot of depth, but drinkability is written large in the selection.

A diverse and exciting wine list that showcases many of the world benchmarks for wine, with particular focus on Bordeaux and Burgundy, but also offers drinkers an opportunity to explore some of the emerging wine producers, wine regions and countries. That wines from Bulgaria and Denmark grace a list alongside collections of Domaine de la Romanée Conti, is part of the charm. There selections from Australian, USA and New Zealand may be shorter than expected, but the French wine selection is formidable. Champagne is also a highlight with many grower-producers, and their top cuvees, available, while cult, natural wines from the likes of Marie-Therese Chapez (Valais, Switzerland) and Broc Cellars (California, USA) appear alongside. It's an exciting proposition, particularly for a big name hotel like Four Seasons - it shows a finger on the pulse for wine culture. A list to be celebrated and enjoyed by many, the curation here is excellent.

This is an interesting list, written by a confident sommelier, keen to support producers and wines from lesser known regions. Its great to see a list that has found a way to balance listing wine from Slovenia to Syria with the classic wine regions of the world such as Burgundy and Alsace. Within in these regions however we find a well curated selection of both highly regarded and well known producers mixed with smaller up and coming producers. There is something here for everyone, its not all esoteric, the Champagne selection is broad and well thought out and the Bordeaux list on point, with a solid representation of top Chateaux and lesser known appellations, which in turn results in a very approachable list from a price point perspective. The time and effort put into crafting a list that is interesting and innovated is appreciated. Bravo!

Being an American steakhouse, red wines are king at Morton's. Yes, there is a lovely selection of quality white wine and a good selection of NV Champagne, but red wine is where all the action is. The range of American cabernet sauvignon is wildly impressive, with plenty of big names. There is also a great selection of Italian wines, arranged by region, and select representatives from famous French regions. Australian blockbusters are out in force, and there is a good selection from South America. If you love steak, and you love red wine, you will honestly be in heaven.

Im seeing red...red wine that is. The red wine selection at Morton's Steakhouse, shows depth across a range of the well known wine producing countries, along with some lesser known, such as Lebanon. The white wine selection is solid, but perhaps a little less of the focus, given the style of cuisine. American wines reign supreme and the coravin program will hopefully give you the chance to try a few of them by the glass.

The Morton's wine list flows red. After a quick aperitif - a sound selection of mostly non-vintage Champagne - it's straight to business with a world-wide listing of red wines, led by American and French cabernets. White wines definitely play a lesser role here in keeping with the steakhouse theme. Aged reds are a feature as is the tight collection of half bottles.

This is a wine list brimming with big name wine producers from around the globe. It's a showcase of top end wine producers and their best wines, with excellent expressions from marquee wine regions. Therefore, you get Cloudy Bay and Dog Point Marlborough sauvignon blancs, or Hugel and Trimbach rieslings, or you can dive into shiraz from Torbreck, Auguste Clape or Château de Beaucastel, often with some serious cellaring. Indeed, the wine list seems to revel in mature wines, with listed with over five years age, in just about all categories. Champagne is also outstanding, with a mix of big names and some of the outstanding grower-producers like Larmandier Bernier and Seloisse. Of course, Bordeaux is a serious contender for best section of this wine list, with wines stretching back to the 1980s. Aromatic whites and an excellent collection of chardonnay are also highlights, and likely the best matched to the restaurant's Japanese cuisine. A suitably, quality wine list.

A seriously excellent list that focuses on Italian wine but delivers an extraordinary journey around the world of fine wine, with strong representation from great wine regions. and wine producers, of France, Spain, Australia, New Zealand and more. Italian wine is the real hero, though, with high end producers from all over the country, though the stars come from brilliant Barolo and a great collection of vintage, cellar releases. While Piedmont and Tuscany might be a focal point, intriguing wines from cult producers like Friuli's orange wine maestro Gravner, or unusual wines of Sicily, are also found in these pages. There's strength in Bordeaux wines at Opera Bombana too, with particular interest in choice bottles from Chateau Haut-Brion, Cheval Blanc and Petrus. This is a very comprehensive wine list, finely chosen, well set out, and offering drinkers a high end experience to ably match the tenor of the dining.

A new addition to Shanghai, The Peacock Room, is to be applauded for its individual approach to presenting wine. It's made all the more challenging by being paired with modern, spicy Sichuan cooking. The list is anchored in classic wines and producers but after that it gets interesting. The Unknown, for instance, will delight those in search of alternate or indigenous grapes such as Piedmontese arneis, Sardinian vermentino or Sicilian frappato. The Chinese Experience is a must-try selection from sparklings through to Ningxia and Shanxi chardonnays and the emergence of the marselan grape as a seriously good quality Chinese wine.

An incredible wine list that feels near complete in all its elements, from its fifty, extraordinary options by the glass, to its namesake collection of Petrus dating back to 1928, this is a sublime list that encompasses an amazing 1800 wines. The list broadly covers the great wines of the world, the best wine regions, wines of utmost significance, and stellar vintages. It is a wine list that goes heavy on fine Bordeaux but doesn't overlook the emerging wine regions from lesser-sung places. That being said, this is a wine collection that pays homage to classics, therefore you see superb selections from names like Raveneau, Jean-Louis Chave, Trimbach, Lafite-Rothschild, Cheval Blanc, and, of course, Romanee Conti. It is a list that is so comprehensive that diners will spend long periods of time agonising over their choices, though the sommelier team, led by Master Sommelier Yohann Jouselin, are some of the world's best. A truly outstanding collection, delivered to diners at Petrus.

Phenix presents a confident, accomplished wine list largely devoted to French wines - some from unexpected places such as a Corsican vermentino - that delivers value and interest. Great to see Alsatian riesling, Beaujolais and Loire Valley white wines taken seriously for their food-matching abilities. Outside France, expect a smattering of world wines, including unusual beauties like the assyrtiko grape from Greece. The cocktail and aperitif selection is world-class. Lots to enjoy here.

As the name implies, this is a place for relaxing and hanging out before and after dinner. Here is a list that certainly takes its role seriously as far as spirits are concerned with a comprehensive selection of classic cocktails, vodkas and gins. Scotch drinkers will be especially pleased. Wines play a smaller role, however those who like some age on their reds, will enjoy the Red Wine Cellar Collection.

Shanghainese cooking is showcased at Pin Yue which raises the question, what wine goes with poached bullfrog? Maybe the answer lies in the strong list of Chinese liquors, or maybe on the tight selection of international wines. The small Cellar Collection will catch many an eye with Jostmeyer gewurztraminer, Opus One and Henschke Hill of Grace among the tempting offerings. Not that this list is just about expensive icons, there are also wines more modest and approachable, too.

Another new restaurant to 2018, The Pine mixes eastern and western cuisines while maintaining a distinctive world view of wine. Here you will find a taste of many countries from Champagne and the sparkling wines of Spain, to New Zealand sauvignon blanc and German rieslings, through to Barolo and Argentinian malbec. Equal time and energy is given to each of the major wine producing countries - and others such as Moravia - so the diner is definitely spoilt for choice. Prices are fair.

if you like mature wines, this is a list that excels. Indeed, it is quite amazing just how much carefully cellared wine appears in these pages, with scarce examples of more recent vintages, instead, offering diners a grand opportunity to drink wines in excellent drinking windows. The list, of course, covers most bases of international fine wine, with a particular focus on outstanding Italian wine regions, Bordeaux, Burgundy and a surprising number of wines from the United States. The list is stacked with boutique wine producers, but there's plenty of common ground in wines from famed winemakers like Giuseppe Mascarello, Gaja or Mouton Rothschild, but don't miss gems from Greece, Australia or New Zealand in the mix too. Spirits are also a great feature of this wine list, with a tempting collection of single malts a highlight, though those inclined will find a Chinese spirits of interest too. A very well put together collection

What can one say about a list that feels near complete in terms of covering the global highlights of international wine, including extensive back vintage collections, rarities, emerging wine styles and regions, and a selection of first rate spirits? The list at Robuchon Au Dome is epic - over 550 pages covering a staggering 16,800 wines. It is an encyclopaedia of wine, with a tremendous offering of outstanding Champagne, from smallest grower-producer to amazing grand marque back vintages, a mesmerising listing of high class Burgundy, including Romanee Conti, Coche-Dury and Leflaive, with stellar examples listed from top fight Germany riesling vigneron and Piedmont's highest rated Barolo. It is near impossible to convey the magnitude and depth of this list, safe to say that there truly is something for everyone, with high end drinking the motif. It must be such a pleasure working with a cellar of this magnitude, and the list is a testimony to careful but near endless selection.

*A well-chosen wine list that travels to all corners of the globe, but drops a firm anchor into the extraordinary wines of Domaine de la Romanee Conti for good measure. Indeed, the wine list seems to be mostly orientated to best value, high end wine producers, aside a striking collection of DRC. You can drink wine from Austria to Australia, Champagne to China, with a scattering of USA, New Zealand and Germany in between. Mostly represented are the marquee wine styles of highest profile wine regions of the world, with notable producers including Te Mata, Ridge Vineyards, John Duval and Joh.Jos.Priim included. Most wines are from more or less current release, but there is a good selection of wines with some medium term and longer term cellaring on board. The selection of Bordeaux is, of course, lengthy too, with a good listing of First Growths, and other Bordeaux wines listed under their various growths, which is handy when selecting. A very serious wine list that offers a full complement of outstanding, big name, premium wine producers. Indeed, this is a list that nearly entirely focuses on prestigious wine, with little in the entry level to entice the novice drinker, instead pitching squarely at the best-of-the-best level of wines. By the glass is an incredible array of top flight wines in itself, with rarely seen Lopez de Heredia Viña Tondonia on offer between significant names like Loimer, Niepoort and Alion. There's exceptional wines listed under Bordeaux, a raft of outstanding Champagne including rare wines from Jacques Selosse. Indeed, the premium wines here are engrossing, though the real asset is the hard-to-select-from, masterful back catalogue of Chablis and Burgundy, or, as an example, the collection of mature Léoville Las Cases. Quite extraordinary how many collectable, rare wines are gathered here. An outstanding collection.

Table No. 1's strength rests in a wine list married to a food menu that explores Modern Europe in its many facets. Start with a "tasting" trio of Deutz Champagne - brut, blanc de blancs, rose - and move into an Hungarian furmint or Chablis. Red wines are probably the star here, from tasty Bourgogne and Barbera d'Asti to a lone Spanish red from Castilla y Leon. A range of wine budgets is catered for.

By the glass: 90 - 225 HKD

T'ang Court at the Langham is opulent Chinese dining at its best. This heavily awarded and Michelin Starred Cantonese restaurant shows us a discerning, cleverly curated list that touches on every great wine style in the world. From the list of 1st Growth Bordeaux, hard-to-find champagnes, and a Burgundy collection that is refined and exciting, T'ang has one of the most balanced lists we've seen in a long while. We love the Chinese wines available on the list, so too the Japanese Sake selection. An interesting inclusion to have a whole page dedicated to organic wine - a nod to the world trend that is sweeping the wine-drinking community at home and abroad. T'ang is not to be missed: old world Chinese opulence get a modern and fresh twist with this intellectually crafted wine list - bravo.

By the glass: 115 - 230 RMB

Tang Court's heart may be in Cantonese cooking but its wine list shows a definite attachment to Europe. Meursault, Mosel, Umbria, Chablis, Piedmont, St.-Estephe, the Loire and Rhone Valleys star in the Sommelier Selection. The excellent Wines By Glass offerings go further afield, delving into New Zealand, Australia and Alsatian aromatic white wines and lighter-bodied reds. A highlight on the main list for many visitors will be the strong Chinese wine component with five whites and five reds represented. And don't forget to check out the drool-worthy, Premium Wine Cellar Selection. Stand outs are to be found in the Sommelier Selection and its great wines. This is on display in the Premium Wine Cellar Selection

By the glass: 68 - 108 RMB

Authentic wood fired pizzas, housemate pasta, an extensive wine list featuring all of the Italian greats... Tavola Italian is a home away from home in Beijing. The thirteen wines by the glass take us on a journey across Italy, from the volcanic mountain of Etna, through Tuscany and up into the rolling foothills of Piedmont. It is a thorough representation of what we can expect from the main list beyond. The list itself features all of the Italian masters: think Ornellaia, Gaja, Vietti, Pio Cesare, Elio Altare, Aldo Conterno, Antinori and La Spinetta, to name but a few. Tucked into the list is an extensive selection of premier and grand cru Burgundy, cellared 1st Growths dating back to the 70's, and wines from Australia, New Zealand, America, Germany, Austria, Argentina and China. To wrap up, there is a good selection of dessert wines, spirits, digestifs and beers, plus many other post-dinner delights. Bravo Tavola!

Wine list by Han Yew Kong / Ervin Ong

Wine on list: 798 (25 by the glass)

Wine prices: $-$$$

By the glass: 85 - 400 MOP

Winner Best List Macau SRA

What a list! We wouldn't normally start by extolling the virtues of the wines available en magnum, however it is necessary here. There is a full selection of 1st Growth Bordeaux, Super Tuscans to the tune of Ornellaia, Sassacaia, Brunello di Montalcinos, Barolos, Barbarescos and Champagne. There is even a double magnum of Lafite - no doubt purchased en primeur and about as flashy as it gets. The options by the glass include premium wines via Coravin, Gaja, Domaine Leroy and Amarone del Valpolicella. The main list is extensive and crosses most continents in pursuit of great wines. From cult grower to prestige grand marque Champagne houses, hard to find vintages, interestingly curated white wines across a wide variety of styles and countries, to a long list of the world's great red wines, Terrazza essentially has it all. Well deserving of 3 glasses in 2018, a continuation of the high quality its customers have come to expect. A brilliantly curated, 'must-see' wine experience.

Wine list by Han Yew Kong / Sean Chen

Wine on list: 36 (17 by the glass)

Wine prices: $-$$

By the glass: 55 - 120 MOP

A tiny list, that proves mini, can indeed be mighty. The Apron is an Oyster bar, and as you would expect and hope, at least half the wines available are sparkling. The bubbles available cover a surprisingly wide range of styles: blanc de blancs, blanc de noir, rose, NV and Cava. There is a pleasing amount of cult grower champagne available, illustrating a verve for champagne on the part of the sommelier. The whites wines are perfectly selected for seafood - textured, layered, fresh and exciting, showcasing Chablis, New Zealand sauvignon blanc, Hunter Valley semillon, muscadet, vermentino and German riesling. Many smiles are induced by this selection. The reds show a penchant for tannin and acidity and come from 8 different corners of the wine world. There are craft beers, spirits, liqueurs and just as many non-alcoholic options... The Apron shows us what wonders can be revealed in a lilliputian list of only 36 wines. A refreshing and exciting corner of Macau!

There is a great deal to like about the wine list at the Bridge though thoughtful choices are the key to its success. There's balance between the wines from different countries, at different price points and between the wines presented and the dishes on offer. There's respect for the Chinese wine industry by making some excellent local wines available. There are some of the great wines of the world as well as some exciting newcomers. It's a fine list.

Not many small wine lists manage to deliver such excitement as The Cannery. It bristles with small winemakers on the rise or worth discovering for the first time, and pays deference to organic, bio-dynamic and "nature" wines in addition to classic and alternative grape varieties. It offers a quick visit around the world via grapes such as koshu (Japan), nero d'avola (Sicily) as well as classic riesling (Germany) and chardonnay (Burgundy). The extensive selection of spirits will lift the spirit.

Is this the largest wine list in the world? The Eight in Macau boasts a gargantuan list - a total of 16,800 wines, it must be getting close. There is not a great wine that is not listed here. 9 pages of Champagne's greatest cuvees, from vintages that are almost impossible to source dating back to the 1950's, plus magnums! There are 30+ pages of Burgundy whites - yes this includes over 600 grand cru (Montrachet and DRC within) and countless premier cru and beyond. Apply this to the rest of the list and you get the idea - almost priceless bottles of 1st Growths from great years, Grange, DRC, Screaming Eagle, more Gaja than you could poke a stick at, large formats, old Italians, wines from far flung places, and a list of d'Yquem that brings chuckles of disbelief - back to 1825 if you can believe it. An impressive cellar, but bring your reading glasses and your wallet, this is a seriously big read.

The F. Bistro shows us a concise, tidy little list ordered by village/region and consisting purely of French wines, chosen to suit the cuisine. Ranging from good value through to hard to find and patiently cellared, The F. Bistro surely has a wine for every palate. Rhone, Burgundy, Champagne, Alsace, Beaujolais, Provence, Jura, Savoie, the Loire Valley, the Languedoc and more are all explored, and show an excitement on the part of the sommelier, in bringing these French wines to the people of Xiamen. AT the end of your evening, there is the choice of Cognac, Bas-Armagnac, Calvados, Pastis and more. If beer is more your flavour, there is a good selection of artisanal organic Belgian beer on tap. Sante!

Cuisine: International Bar & Lounge

Wine list by Billy De Leon

Wine on list: 356 (17 by the glass)

Wine prices: $$$

By the glass: 68 - 480 MOP

A wine list that embraces the world's best wine regions, and some of the world's best known wine producers, with a solid back catalogue of cellared gems and some more 'unusual' listings from Chile, Lebanon and USA. It's great to see the breadth of offering here, from ultra-rare wines like Soldera from Tuscany to a swathe of featured Bordeaux all from the landmark 1982 vintage. Indeed, Bordeaux is grandly featured in the list, with benchmark chateaux showcased across multiple vintages. For the enthusiasts of a broader palette, there's a seriously good collection of wines from Portugal here, a wine growing country that often is sidelined or limited in exposure. A scattering of top end, big names from Australia and New Zealand round out the offering well, with a highlight being the range of Penfold's wines with some cellaring. This is a list that seems carefully considered to give clientele a grand journey through global wines and wine styles.

Wine on list: 800 (22 by the glass)
Wine prices: $$$
By the glass: 135 - 710 HKD

Winner Best Hotel Restaurant List

A very serious wine list that celebrates a wealth of global wines across some 800 listings, this is a very well put together collection that highlights top flight producers alongside those from emerging wine regions. Therefore, diners can enjoy wines from marquee regions like Bordeaux, Burgundy, Piedmont, Champagne, but likewise explore some unique examples from Switzerland or Turkey, though it is amusing to see things like Hunter Valley semillon or chenin blanc from Stellenbosch listed under 'indigenous and curiosities'! Champagne is particularly well-considered amongst the breadth of selection here, with a range that covers prestigious 'big name' houses to smaller, grower producers. Wine aficionados will appreciate the modest but well-selected collection of mature wines too, particularly in the Italian reds selections, with Piedmont and Tuscany allowing enthusiasts to drink back to the 1990s.

The listing is adventurous and daring in conception with the odd rare gem such as Terres Dorees sparkling gamay from Beaujolais, the small family Champagne house of Chartogne-Taillet and Japanese sweet plum wines. As well as the eclectic, there are also long-time favourites from established producers. The list of sake confirms its Japanese credentials, as does the highly imaginative cocktail list. Matcha Sour or Wasabi Daiquiri, anyone?*

This is an outstanding list: modest in size so it doesn't overwhelm but stunning in its presentation of the finest of wines at a range of price points. So in Margaux, it offers a third growth, the second wine of Chateau Margaux, and Margaux itself. Its focus is on the finest of producers from around the world but not just their top wines. China itself is represented.

A top class wine list that showcases some of the world's biggest names in premium wine. This is a list that is stuffed full of extraordinary producers from marquee wine regions, with a strong focus on Burgundy, Bordeaux, Rhone Valley, Champagne and various Australian prestige wine growing areas. There's a very good addition of Chinese wine and rice wines too. Diners should find the collection of Didier Dagueneau and Coche Dury tantalising from the white wine selections, while red wine producers like Haut Brion, Chapoutier, Gaja and Vega Sicilia are found across multiple vintages, in some cases dating back to the 1980s. Portugal has an unusually strong showing too, with top end winemakers like Quinta do Vale Dona Maria, Quinta do Vale Meão and Herdade do Mouchão having a good showing in this list. Top end wines dominate the offering, giving diners a big night out experience while dining at Zi Yat Heen. It's a well-chosen list here.
